MARTIN V. B. PIERSON.

MRS. M. V. B. PIERSON.

HAVE BEEN MARRIED 50 YEARS

Mr. and Mrs. M. V. B. Pierson Observe Anniversary With Family Dinner and Reception Today, at Their Home on West Main Street.

In observance of their fiftieth wedding anniversary there will be a family gathering today at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Martin V. B. Pierson, No.
849 West Main street, and from 5 to 10 p. m. there will be a reception, to which 200 invitations were issued. For 37 years they have been prominent residents of the West Side, but their acquaintance extends not only to the territory of eastern Connecticut, but practically all that state. Mr. Pierson has been identified with the ivory and sales stable business, the first part being as owner and driver of the omnibus line from his West Main street stable to the City Gardens on the East Side. Pierson's bus was the means of transportation on the West Side in those days, but was forced out of business when the horse car line was built from Franklin square west.
Plenty there are who remember that line, where the passenger walked up to the front of the bus, laid down his nickel and attracted the driver's attention by ringing a bell. There were no white poles then, the passenger alighting where he wished.

There will be about 25 at the family dinner, including a number from out of town, while it is expected that many out of town guests will be present at the reception. Both Mr. and Mrs. Pierson are enjoying excellent health, and have taken a keen interest in the preparations for the anniversary celebration. Neither was a native of this city, but they have long been identified with all that pertains to its welfare, in religious, business and social life.

Mr. Pierson was born in Glastonbury, Conn., July 9, 1839, being one of ten children born to Nathan and Julia M. Post Pierson. He received his schooling in Glastonbury and Hartford, and for a number of years he followed farming throughout Eastern Connecticut. He is a descendant of Henry Pierson, who first settled Southbury in 1636, and in 1840, coming from Lynn, Mass.

When he first came to Norwich, 37 years ago, he first worked in the depot of the New London Northern railroad, which he now the Central Vermont. He then established the local stage omnibus line, which continued for a period of ten years, until the horse line put an end to his passengerage. During that time he was engaged in the sale of horses and some live stock, until at the end of a quarter of a century in that line he disposed of it to his son, Elmer R.
Pierson, who is now conducting it.

In the breeding and training of horses Mr. Pierson was adept in his younger days. He built up a large business in dealing in western horses, which he brought here by the railroad, and at first it was necessary to break them before selling. In doing this he had many experiences, and in saying that it would be impossible to tell how many times he had been run away with some idea of the excitement of the business can be gathered. In all these experiences he escaped without serious injury and on some of the runaway Mrs. Pierson happened to be with him, but neither was hurt.

Mrs. Pierson is a native of Marlboro, Conn., where she was born May 28, 1844, the daughter of Samuel and Eliza Root Finley, her maiden name being Anna J. Finley. She was one of two daughters.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Pierson are members of Trinity M. E. church, in which they have been members since their marriage. Mrs. Pierson is also a member of the Home Missionary society. Mr. Pierson is also a member of the Colonial club of Norwich lodge, No. 12, A. O. U. W.

There are five persons living who were at the wedding. Mrs. George Pier, Mrs. George A. Lewis of this city, Mrs. H. C. Allen of New London, Merwin Root of Modus and Mrs.
Sarah Morse of Danielson. The ceremony was performed by Rev. George Morse on Nov. 28, 1861, which date fell on Thanksgiving that year. While the exact anniversary occurred Tuesday of this week, they decided to hold it on Thanksgiving. After their marriage and for a number of years they went to South Glastonbury with snow on the ground. After a few days' drive about the country, they went to Tolland to reside, but lived in a number of towns before coming here.

Mr. Pierson of this city and Mrs. John M.
Newton of Somerville, Mass. There were six grandchildren, Elmer R.
Pierson, a student at Worcester Tech., and Miss Edith A. Pierson of this city; Gladys E. Pierson of C. Albert P.
Pierson of Somerville, Mass. There were three of those at the wedding ceremony, Mrs. George A. Lewis, J. H. Root and Mrs. George Morris.

FRANTIC WITH ECZEMA

Itching and Burning Drive One Almost Mad.

Try This Remedy at Our Risk.

Children, and grown persons too, are so often driven almost frantic with the intolerable itching and burning of eczema and other skin troubles, that a remedy which will not only secure their immediate comfort, but also clear away the eruption in a short time, is nothing less than a public benefit.

It is remarkable that so mild and harmless an application as our new remedy, Saxon Salve, can stop the itching so quickly as it does.

And its penetrating healing power is even more remarkable, for improvement is seen after the first few days and the final results must satisfy the user or we refund the money.

If you have any itching, or burning rash or humor of the skin, any or other skin trouble, get the Saxon Salve. It is what you need, and you should try this splendid remedy.
